DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1 – 3 and 16 - 19, drawn to a composition, classified in class 424, subclass 765, for example.
 - II. Claims 4 – 5 and 20, drawn to a method for inhibiting hair growth, classified in class 424, subclass 70.1, for example.
 - III. Claim 6, drawn to a method for treating or preventing folliculitis, classified in class 424, subclass 78.02, for example.
 - IV. Claims 7 - 8, drawn to a method for increasing SPF factor in a composition, classified in class 424, subclass 725, for example.
 - V. Claims 9 – 15, drawn to a method of making a composition, classified in class 424, subclass 773, for example.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and V are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the extract could be made by comminuting a burnet leaf followed by drying and pressing into a tablet.

Art Unit: 1651

3. Inventions I:II, I:III and I:IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the methods can be practiced with other materially different products such as administering parathyroid hormone for inhibiting hair growth, washing with antibacterial shampoo for preventing folliculitis, and adding vitamin E to increase SPF in compositions.

The inventions of groups II:III, II:IV, II:V, III:IV, III:V and IV:V are directed to different inventions which are not connected in design, operation, and/or effect. These methods are independent since they are not disclosed as capable of use together, they have different modes of operation, they have different functions, and/or they have different effects. One would not have to practice the various methods at the same time to practice just one method alone.

The several inventions above are independent and distinct, each from the other. They have acquired a separate status in the art as a separate subject for inventive effect and require independent searches (as indicated by the different classification). The search for each of the above inventions is not co-extensive particularly with regard to the literature search. Further, a reference which would anticipate the invention of one group would not necessarily anticipate or even make obvious another group.
